LOVING MEMORIES

Your gentle face and patient smile — With sadness we recall;
And a kindly word for each — And died beloved by all.
Your voice is mute, and stilled the heart — That loved us well and true;
Your better was the trial to part — From one so good as you.
You are not forgotten "Dad", — Nor will you ever be.
Your life as life and memory last, — We will remember thee.
Miss you now, our hearts are sore, — As time goes by we'll Miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face — No one can fill your vacant place.

The Family

In deep gratitude, we wish to express prayerfully our sincere thanks and gratification to the many friends, for the kindness and comforting expressions of love shown during the hours of our bereavement. May God bless each of you.

JAMES WYNETOTTE SMITH, son of the late Cooper and Nancy M. Smith was born March 15, 1893 in Cherokee County, S.C. He made his earthly home, Monday, September 20, 1982 at Veterans Hospital, Salisbury.

He professed a hope in Christ and chose God as his guiding star while a very young boy, and joined Hopewell Presbyterian Church in Cherokee County, S.C. He remained an active member until he entered Biddle University.

James Smith received his early education in the Public Schools of Cherokee County, S.C. and Harbison Institute, Irmo, S.C. He later attended Biddle University, now Johnson C. Smith University and received degrees of: A.B., B.D., M.D., D.D.

While at Biddle University, he volunteered for service in World War I and was honorably discharged 1918. He served with the 92nd Buffalo Division, American Expedition Forces in Europe, and was eleven miles from the signing of the Armistice Day Agreement November 11, 1918.

He then re-entered Biddle University and enrolled in the Theological Seminary. In 1923, he married Margaret Arthur who preceded him in death in 1973. In a happy union, two sons and two daughters were born.

During his active ministry, Rev. Smith faithfully served the following Presbyterian Churches: Shiloh Presbyterian Church, Knoxville Tenn., Chestnut Street Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, N.C., Davie Street Presbyterian Church, Wilmington, N.C. and Seventh Street Presbyterian Church, now First United Presbyterian Church and was Pastor Emeritus at his death. After he retired in 1966, he served as guest Minister and Moderator of many Churches in the Catawba Presbytery.

He exhibited enormous civic pride. Among these are: Commander of Division 1, N.C. Department of American Legion, Past Secretary of the Trustee of Johnson C. Smith University, Charter member of Alpha Omicron Chapter of Phi Alpha Fraternity, Past Patron of Golden Hue of Masonic Unique Lodge No. 123, P.H.A., Grand Chaplain of Golden Hue Order of Eastern Star, Chapter No. 123, P.H.A., Organizer and past President of Young at Heart Club, Member of Senior Care Group of First United Methodist Church, Uptown Ministries Program, Member and past Officer of Ministerial Alliance of Mecklenburg County.

Reverend Dr. Smith was widely sought and most highly respected by his fellow Ministers, Church Members and the Charlotte Community for his guidance and counseling. He played a vital role in the life of all who knew him as a loving, kind, compassionate person, sincerely concerned for the welfare of his fellowman.

As the evening shadow covers this beautiful Christian life, he leaves in possession of his precious memories: two sons, Chaplain James Wynetotte Smith of Hyattsville, Md., William Arthur Smith of Charlotte, N.C.; two daughters, Estelle Smith Gaymon of Reston, Va., and Mrs. Gloria Smith Burch of Charlotte, N.C.; one brother, Dr. Samuel Cooper Smith of Greensboro, N.C.; one sister, Angeline B. Smith; two grandsons, William Victor Gaymon of Mitchelville, S.C., Thomas Wynetotte Burch of Charlotte, N.C.; three granddaughters, Yzonchris Smith and Toria Jewelle Burch, both of Charlotte, N.C., and Gabrielle Gaymon of Reston, Va.; one son-in-law, William Edward Gaymon of Reston, Va.; two daughters-in-law, Mrs. Marjorie Caldwell Smith of Hyattsville, Md. and Mrs. Thelma Stokes Smith of Charlotte, N.C. and many other relatives and friends.
